The ICES Vision: A flourishing eco-system for industry and academia excelling in embedded systems research, education and innovation

Together we strive to bridge the gap between theory and practical implementation and to formulate and drive long term research challenges within different domains in the area of embedded systems.

How does the membership offer work?

The membership is a support for ICES network activities during the period 2017-01-31 to 2017-12-31 but can be defined as pro rata (based on remaining months of the year) for new participants in a calendar year. There are 3 membership levels, see table below.

The membership will be activated by filling in this form, it also requires following the ICES Code of Conduct (more information can be found on www.ices.kth.se). The final decision is taken by the ICES board. The agreement can be terminated with one month notice.
